The Project Management team is right on target with where they want to be.

Approval of Memorandum of Understanding with the Federal Railroad Administration

Member Crane reminded the consultants that the ideas of how to finance the project need to be in place before the Authority moves forward with the project.

The consultants informed the board that upon the identification of the preferred alignment for the Bay Area to Central Valley portion of the system and the completion of the revised ridership forecasts, the next few months would be spent developing a financial plan.

Project Staging

Executive Director Morshed commented to the board that it is important to realize that this project spans over 700 miles and is estimated to cost $40 billion. A project like this has never been done before. The board members had asked to see some more detailed segment information and those have been put together in a series of segments. There are many factors in determining segments and the presentation will include only a few of the many possibilities. The numbers are rough as of today and the Authority has not completed the Bay Area EIR/EIS or determined the preferred alignment. The revenue and ridership will be based on 2020 projections.

Chairman Kopp directed the project staging be placed on the calendar and the staff report funding options for several segments.
